COURSE PLAN METHODOLOGY AND INSTRUCTION:

Please note that access to all digital course materials for Bien dit! Level 2 may be attained by registering for Student Online Access. Any applicable answer keys for the course assignments may be attained by registering for the Parent/Instructor Online Access. The French 1 Digital Resources User’s Manual is provided with both the Student Online Access and the Parent/Instructor Online Access. It has detailed instructions for accessing and using the resources provided by the Student Online Access and the Parent/Instructor Online Access.

❖ Course Plan: The Kolbe French 2 course plan covers Chapitre 1 through Chapitre 8 of Bien dit! Level 2, 2018 edition. Chapitres 9-10 have been purposely left out of the course plan to make for a more streamlined course of study and exam schedule since the topics covered in Chapitres 9-10 will be repeated in French 3 with Bien dit! 3.

❖ Notes grammaticales: Occasionally “notes grammaticales” will be included in the assignment area of the course plan. These are meant to provide further explanation of certain concepts and/or helpful hints.

❖ Written Textbook assignments: The student may write out his/her answers to the written exercises in a notebook, and the teacher can check the answers with the Bien dit! digital teacher’s edition textbook answer key OR the student may submit written textbook assignments in the student edition of the digital textbook.

❖ Digital Workbook exercises: The course plan assigns exercises from the Cahier de Vocabulaire et de Grammaire workbook. These assignments appear occasionally in Semester 1 and with regularity in Semester 2. The workbook is provided through the Student Online Access purchased in the bookstore, and the answer key is provided through the Parent/Instructor Online Access.

❖ Oral Textbook Assignments: The student may submit oral textbook assignments in the digital version of the student textbook, or the oral activities may be recited live for the teacher or recorded to be reviewed later by the teacher. The ad-free website http://vocaroo.com/, allows the student to create audio recordings which can be saved and downloaded. There are no sign-ups required and use of the site is free.

❖ Audio and Video Materials: These materials are provided through the digital text or the publisher’s “Student Resources” online. The Tele-vocab videos, Écoutons activités, Vocabulaire audio files, Grammavision videos, and Télé-roman videos are designed so that the student can hear and see the lesson’s vocabulary and grammar in context. The Tele-vocab videos present the vocabulary for that section of the chapter and provide a way for students to hear proper pronunciation of the words and expressions. The Écoutons activités provide listening comprehension exercises for the student. The scripts to these activities can be found in the introductory pages of each chapter in the teacher’s edition of the text book. The Vocabulaire audio files provide a way for the student to hear and practice proper pronunciation. The Grammavision videos provide a quick grammar explanation of key points along with visual aid. For the Télé-Roman sections, before watching the video for the first time, the student should read the conversation in the textbook, listen to any corresponding audio tracks, and look at the pictures for clues about what they will hear and see in the video. Only after doing these things should the student proceed to watch the video. Finally, the student should read the conversation again (and if desired, watch the video again) and complete the rest of the exercises for that section.

- “On Rappe!”: The digital video resources for Bien dit! Level 2 include a resource called “On Rappe!”
  These videos review the vocabulary and grammar points for the particular unit in an entertaining way. These videos are provided in the publisher’s “Student Resources” online. They are not accessed through the digital text. Please note that while there is nothing contrary to the Catholic Faith presented in these videos, the music is modern (“rap” style) so the parent(s) may want to review them before deciding whether or not to use the “On Rappe!” videos for their student.

- Lecture et écriture: Near the end of each chapter there is a section entitled “Lecture et écriture” (reading and writing). This section offers short reading selections accompanied by an audio file for listening to a French speaker read the selection. This section is not assigned every chapter. The audio files are provided through the digital text or the publisher's “Student Resources” online.

- Culture: An important part of learning any foreign language is studying the cultures that speak the language as well. Within each chapter of the book there is a brief culture lesson. These lessons introduce different aspects of cultures from French speaking countries around the world and tend to focus on the theme of the chapter. Occasionally, an accompanying culture video will be assigned. The culture video files are provided through the digital text and in the publisher’s “Student Resources” online. In addition, there is a brief list of cultural traditions based on the Catholic liturgical calendar at the end of this course plan just before the exams. This is an optional resource which can be used in addition to the culture lessons provided by the textbook.

- Prépare-toi pour l'examen: At the end of every chapter of the textbook is a section entitled “Prépare-toi pour l'examen.” Activities from this section will be assigned before each exam. These can be used as a self-check before an exam. In the digital textbook, there are also additional “Chapter self-tests” which can be accessed by clicking on the “Online Assessment” icon in the upper righthand corner or through the “Student Resources” online. These quizzes are self-graded.
  Performance on the self-checks and book activities in this section of the chapter should alert the student to whether more practice and/or drills are required in order to grasp a given concept.

- Révisions cumulatives: At the end of every chapter there is a section entitled “Révisions cumulatives.” This section challenges the student to use the skills acquired from the previous chapter in different modalities: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. As the student progresses through the textbook, these sections build on themselves. For instance, after chapter 1, the section only uses skills from chapter 1, but after chapter 2, this section draws from both chapters 1 and 2, etc. Activities from this section will be assigned at the end of each chapter in order to help prepare for the chapter exam. The answers to these activities are found in the teacher's edition.
  Additionally, there is a short, digital assessment linked to this section in the digital textbook. By clicking on the “Online Assessment” icon, a student can take a short, cumulative, self-graded test online. PDF copies of the tests may also be found in the publisher’s “Student Resources” online.
Memorization of Terms: Memorization is key to learning any language. A diligent student should keep flash cards and devote fifteen to twenty minutes daily simply to memorization. Emphasis should be placed on verbal, written and aural repetition and memorization, as these are the primary ways to learn a language. Repetition does not equal drudgery. In the book, and in individual classes, repetition can take the form of games, contests, etc. This is especially helpful for younger students. A wonderful online tool that can help with this is the web site Quizlet.com. Quizlet is a free web site that allows the user to create digital flashcards and a variety of other memorization tools (matching, quizzes, simple video games) with any list of words (can be vocab terms but also verb conjugations). Both the teacher and the student can use this tool for memorization and keeping a record of terms as the vocabulary builds on itself.

Extra Practice and Review of Lessons: For extra practice and review of each lesson, the student is highly encouraged to make use of the many additional resources available on the publisher's website accessed through Student Online Access. Of special note is the “@HomeTutor” link, which provides leveled reinforcement for each unit’s vocabulary and grammar sections. Another great option is the web site conjuguemos.com. This site contains many different types of activities for memorizing vocabulary and verb conjugations as well as review activities and games. There is even a section dedicated to the material presented in Bien dit! Level 2. The teacher/student can search by text book and find a wealth of review material.

Conversation practice: Since French is a modern spoken language, students should be given as much opportunity to converse in French with others as possible so that they can practice using the concepts presented in this course. While it is good practice to converse with native speakers, if this is not possible, find other current or previous French students who are at or above the students’ level with whom to speak for a dedicated time every week (half an hour minimum is recommended). This may also be done over the phone if a face-to-face meeting is not possible. It is also useful to begin listening to French online and to view YouTube videos to become familiar with the sound of the French Language. (Note: Parents should absolutely preview each video and/or radio broadcast beforehand to make sure it is appropriate for their students)

ASSIGNMENTS:

Each week the weekly course plan lesson should be read carefully. Each lesson begins with the information covered in the Bien dit! Level 2 textbook. The textbook audio and video exercises can be found by logging into the publisher’s website through Student Online Access and navigating to the desired ebook page, then clicking on the icon for the exercise or activity. For writing or speaking exercises, students may write or record their answers in the online textbook by clicking on the “Q” icon next to the desired activity. Students may also submit written textbook exercises on paper to their parent or instructor.
EXAMS

The course plan includes chapter exams and answer keys for chapters 1-8 as well as semester exams and answer keys. Brief review materials for the chapter and semester exams are also provided. Please see the table of contents to locate the review materials, exams and answer keys.
